Twelfth Night Revels Follow Parish Supper

The "Twelfth Night Revels," which followed the family night supper last Friday night in the Universalist parish house, brought loud applause and gales of laughter from the audience. Mrs. Calvin Cook was the originator and chief planner of the Revels, with Mrs. Lefoy G. Shaw as her assistant, in charge of the costumes.

The royal party entered, led in dignified procession by the little trumpeter—Freddie Sullivan—followed by the Court Jester—Joe McCann, clad in all the bells and bandanna handkerchiefs that the ladies of the committee could muster—and his shadow—Thelston Perry—who faithfully mimicked all his antics. Then came the queen—Mrs. Roscoe Perry—in a wealth of royal robes, and the train bearers—Susan Powers and Carolyn Moody, in attractive Normandy caps; the little page—George Shaw—and the lords and ladies of the Court.

Mrs. Wallace Powers read from the scroll the order of the Revels, which were preceded by the crowning of the queen and interspersed with the clowning of the jester and his shadow. They included "The Bells of St. Mary's," with "Misses Brown and Misses Hesselton" to sing the verse and Mistress Hesselton to play the harpsichord; "rural dance, Doris Cook and Marion Wood; Song, Calvin Cook; "basso profundo of the Queen's Guard;" Reading, by "youthful Mistress Marjorie McCann;" Song, lady-in-waiting, Mistress Ann Hathaway—Mrs. Cook—with Mistress Collins at the harpsichord; chorus, Barcelona. The revels closed with the burning of the Christmas wreath, according to correct tradition, and the royal party, danced down the aisle, their exit in amusing contrast to the dignity of their entrance.

Everybody evidently enjoyed the entertainment, as they had the delicious chicken pie supper, with which the evening opened. This was served by a committee of women from the Samaritan Society, with Mrs. Francis Wadleigh at their head.

ST. JOHN'S GUILD ELECTS MRS. KERNAN PRESIDENT

Mrs. James Kernan was chosen president of the Woman's Guild of St. John's Church at its annual meeting. The other officers are:—Mrs. Arthur Norton, first vice-president; Mrs. J. D. Lane, second vice-president; Mrs. R. O. Laskey, third vice-president and chairman of missionary activities; Mrs. Carl Barstow, recording secretary; Mrs. W. S. Cannel, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Harold Richmond, treasurer.

ARLINGTON YOUTHS HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Tuesday evening, with the rounding up of two Arlington boys, giving their names as George Rider, of Albemarle street, and Robert Langell, of 3 Moore place, both about twenty years old, the office of the section are of the opinion that they have made an important capture. It was brought about after Paul Dalton, of 52 Bow street, Arlington Heights, who is connected with the local Buick Agency, had been held up at the point of a revolver while on Hutchinson road, Winchester, just over the Arlington line.

After he had been released, he had about $200 in money and the young men had taken the distributor car off the machine in order to put it out of commission. They left in a waiting car and started down the hill toward Mystic street.

Patrolman Thomas M. Curran saw a machine coming along at a high rate of speed and tried to stop it. Not being able to, he jumped onto another machine and gave chase, but the machine got away.

Mr. Dalton drove his machine to the Arlington station, where he reported the holdup to Sgt. E. C. Jacobs, who in turn reported to the Winchester police. Patrolman Curran, Mr. Dalton and Sgt. Rogers and Patrolman Hanlon, of the Winchester police, started out in search of the wanted car. A visit was made to the home of Rider, but no one responded to the ring. Coming back to the center of the town, the officer saw a machine near a lunch room. Driving the police car in such a manner as to block progress of the wanted car, the officers covered the occupants of the small car with their revolvers. The two young men in the car submitted to arrest. They were booked at the police station and then turned over to the Winchester police.

The police allege that each of the boys had a revolver and plenty of ammunition with them. They were jointly charged with robbery while armed and robbery in the night time. Both were in Woburn District Court Wednesday morning and bound over to the Grand Jury and held in the sum of $10,000 each.

Just prior to the Dalton holdup there was another of a similar character reported from Belmont. Over the week-end there were two holdups in Lexington. One of the victims, it is alleged, positively identified Rider as one of the two implicated in this affair.

A squad from the Boston flying squadron looked the two young men over, and stated that their description tallied with that of the two who

Circulation Increases At Robbins Library

Mrs. Lucinda F. Spofford, the new librarian at Robbins Memorial Library, finds at the end of the year just closed, that its circulation has been 110,521 books. This is a gain of 20,747 over 1926, and the largest in the history of the library. There have been 10,226 children's books given out. This is 6,686 more books over the previous year. Nearly 82,000 was spent for new books for the library in 1926.

Among the speakers at the annual meeting of the High School Principals' Association of Boston, which will be held at the City Club tomorrow, will be the Rev. John Nicol Mark, pastor of the First Parish Church. Mr. Hermann Gammons, principal of the High school, will present the report of the committee on the New Education of which he is chairman.

Thirty Years Free Delivery In Arlington

Free delivery was established in the local Post-Office thirty years ago this month. It was brought about through the efforts of the late A. D. Holt, then Postmaster. His assistants in the office at that time were Philip A. Hendrick, now a well known Boston Attorney, and the late Frank S. Breen, who, at the time of his death, was Superintendent of the office. Mr. James G. Keenan has been connected with the office for nearly 31 years. Mr. John Murray, Mr. Michael Neville and Mr. Daniel Healy, the latter a clerk in the office, have been with the Arlington station of the Boston Post-Office for 30 years. Arrangements to observe this important anniversary in the history of our town, are being carried forward by men in the Arlington station.

Impressive Ceremony As Officers Are Installed

John H. Harwood, Member of Fire Dept., Dies Suddenly

The host of friends of John Herbert Harwood were shocked to learn of his death, which occurred Friday night, January 6th, at his home, 609 Mass. avenue, after an illness of twenty hours, with angina pectoris. Although he had been suffering with a cold, contracted at a recent fire, Mr. Harwood had not been confined to his home, but because of his day off from duty was there, when taken suddenly ill.

"Bert" Harwood, as he was familiarly known, was born in Lowell, July 27, 1872, the son of R. Byron and Mrs. Myra R. Hill Harwood. Soon after his birth his parents moved to Arlington, where he had since resided. Twenty-nine years ago he became a member of the fire department, serving for many years as a call man attached to the Central Fire Station, then known as the Penn Hose House. A little over a year ago he was appointed a permanent man on the department and was assigned to the Central Fire Station, and among his comrades he was held in high regard because of his helpful attitude toward each one of his associates.

Previous to his appointment as a regular member of the fire department, Mr. Harwood was employed as a clerk at the Grossmith Pharmacy. At one time he was also employed by James O. Holt in his Pleasant street stores, and in each he gave courteous service.

His lodge affiliations were with the Medford Lodge of Elks, of which Mr. Harwood was a member for a long time previous to organizing the Arlington Lodge, after which he joined the latter. He was also a member of Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and the Firemen's Relief Association, and a former member of the First Universalist Men's Club, which church he attended.

On last Sunday, an Elks' service was held in the late home, conducted by officers of the local lodge, which was largely represented, as was also the Medford Lodge, the house being inadequate to hold all who wished to take part in the services.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon in the First Universalist

The impressive ceremony of the installation of the recently elected officers of Longfellow Chapter, O. E. S., took place Tuesday evening in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, which was well filled for the occasion. Particularly beautiful was the effect of the roses which the officers of the Chapter, standing at the front of the hall, held arborwise for the new Worthy Matron, to walk beneath, following her installation. Harlow Hovey was the soloist.

The officers of the installing suite, which was in charge of the ceremony, were Mrs. Margery B. Chisholm, Worthy Grand Matron, assisted by Albin Cameron, Past Patron; Etta MacDonald, Past Matron; Martha M. Strach, Grand Chamberlain; Marian H. Kennedy, Grand Organist.

The officers installed were as follows: Lottie Cameron, Worthy Matron; Norman A. Downs, Worthy Patron; Eola M. Downs, Associate Matron; Millie C. Wadleigh, P. M.; Secretary; Hazel M. Kimball, Treasurer; Jessie A. Simmons, Conductress; Gladys H. Ersko, Associate Conductress; Eva M. Douglas, Chaplain; Alice E. Proudfoot, Marshall; E. Lillian Evans, Organist; Ina A. Downs, Adah; Sara Hewson, Ruth; Estelle M. Platin, Esther; Isabel M. Slack, Martha; Minnie M. Wells, Electa; Emily Childs, Warder; Charles A. Murray, Sentinel.

Included in the ceremonies was the presentation by Mrs. Chisholm of the Past Matron's jewel to Mrs. Matie F. MacDonald, the retiring Matron, and the presentation of the Past Patron's jewel by Mr. Cameron to Marcus J. Gray, the retiring Patron. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Cameron by the officers and by her three children—Horace, Paul and Vera.

Preceding the ceremony, a supper was served by Grant of Everett, in the vestry of the Universalist church. Following this a number of gifts were presented. The officers of 1927 gave Mrs. MacDonald, the retiring matron, a katagel table. From Mr. Gray, the retiring Patron, she received an electric waffle iron, and from Mrs. Gladys Ersko and her daughter, a sewing cabinet. Mr. and Mrs. Gray were the recipients of a clock from Mrs. MacDonald, and Mr. Gray was given a smoking stand by the officers of 1927.

Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekahs will hold its regular meeting next Monday evening in Odd Fellows' Hall.

FOUR HUNDRED GIRL SCOUTS EXPECTED HERE TONIGHT

Four hundred Girl Scouts of Greater Boston are expected to arrive in Arlington before seven o'clock this evening, when the general reception to delegates will be held in the High School hall. The occasion is the annual conference, which will continue until Sunday noon and will include a public meeting in Robbins Memorial Town Hall tomorrow evening.

Parents and friends of the Arlington scouts will entertain the guests. Miss Helen Bennett, who is chairman of the committee on providing temporary homes for the delegates, has been busy at this, as have the other members of the committee, for several weeks. If there is anyone who would like to entertain a scout, there may still be an opportunity if she will communicate with Mrs. Harold Yeames, the Scout Commissioner, or with any member of the Scout Council.

ARLINGTON GRANGE HOLDS INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Arlington Grange, No. 376, of P. of H., held its annual public installation of officers in G. A. R. Hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 4th. Mrs. Katherine Brown MacCarron of Melrose, was the installing officer, assisted by a suite. Miss Edna Ferguson of Lexington Grange officiated as Marshal.

The following officers were installed: Master, Mrs. Mabel G. McCoubrey; Overseer, Marcus J. Gray; Lecturer, Mrs. Ida M. Bowman; Secretary, Mrs. Carrie Maddocks; Treasurer, Clinton E. Somes; Steward, Mrs. Annie Hadley; Lady-Assistant Steward, Mrs. Bessie E. Griffin; Assistant Steward, Wendall Chapman; Pomona, Mrs. Hannah Paine; Flora, Miss Bertha Gunt; Chaplain, Mrs. Emily M. Saunders; Pianist, Mrs. Ethel G. Gray; Assistant Pianist, Miss Marjorie Freeman; Gatekeeper, Mr. Hopkins.

Previous to the installation, a supper was served in the lower hall. The supper committee was chairmaned by Mrs. George MacKay.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wells Observe 50th Anniversary

Tuesday, January 10th, was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wellington Wells, of 920 Massachusetts avenue. In observance of the notable event, the couple gave an informal "at home" to relatives, long time friends and neighbors, on that evening at their home.

Mrs. Wells received in her wedding gown, which was an ashes of roses silk dress, made with a train, and trimmed with fringe of the same color. The couple were assisted in receiving by their daughter, Bertha (Mrs. Edward Andrews) who, with her husband, reside with Mrs. Andrews' parents. Also nieces and nephews of the couple assisted. They were Mrs. Caroline Squire Abbey, wife of Mr. Frank Abbey of Medford; Mrs. Helen Squire Kerr, wife of Dr. Paul F. Kerr of New York; Mrs. Stanley G. (Carrietta Wells) Proverb of Winchester, the Misses Wellington of Lexington, and Mr. Ralph Wells of Arlington.

The rooms were filled with flowers, sent to the couple in observance of the anniversary. There were, besides, gifts in gold, and other gifts. There were many telegrams received. One was from Mrs. Wells' only surviving sister, Mrs. John A. Squid, of Palo Alto, Cal., who had expected to be present, but was unable on account of a recent illness of Mr. Squid.

Among those present was the aunt of Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Clara A. Hartwell of Bedford, Mass., who is 86 years of age. There were also present

As yet the Board of Selectmen have taken no action on the application of the Hart Motor Bus Company for a license to run their busses along Pleasant street, from Arlington Centre to the Belmont line. The matter may be settled at a special meeting of the Board of Selectmen tomorrow afternoon, if not, it will certainly be decided at the regular meeting Monday evening.

Opinions on both sides of the question have been expressed. One man has pointed out that the proposed terminal at the corner of Pleasant street is already a dangerous and crowded spot. Putting a bus stand there would make it even more dangerous. If the Selectmen decide to grant the permit it would seem imperative that they find another place for the terminal.

A resident of Pleasant street points out that already that street is so crowded with traffic that there is difficulty in getting in and out of garages in that locality. He feels that a bus would so obstruct the view as to be a positive menace. A car coming behind the bus would be so completely hidden that another coming from a driveway would have every chance of being hit or of hitting the other.

For Arlington residents who work in Watertown, for children who go to Belmont to school, and for Girl Scouts who make frequent trips to

MILTON C. WORK CAME TO ARLINGTON LAST EVENING

None other than the world's famous Milton C. Work, an authority on auction bridge, appeared in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, last (Thursday) evening. He was sponsored by the Woman's Aid Association of Symmes Arlington Hospital, and for its benefit, and secured through the personal efforts of Walter F. Wyman of Pleasant street, Arlington, a friend, and associated with Mr. Work in the Auction Bridge Bulletin, whose games are often broadcast over the radio with that of Mr. Work.

The hall was set with bridge tables, which were occupied by couples, who, after they had played their hands, were instructed by Mr. Work as to errors in playing and how bidding to make more of the hand, might have been carried on.

Mr. Work was introduced by Mr. Wyman. The evening was a profitable one for those desirous of learning more about this popular game.

The committee for the evening was Mrs. Walter F. Wyman, chairman; Mrs. Herbert W. Reed, Mrs. Harry H. Hunter, Miss Alice W. Homer and Miss Isabel Hallett.

ARLINGTON AND LEXINGTON DOCTORS SUBMIT NEW RATES

At a meeting held December 13th, 1927, the Arlington Doctors' Club adopted the following fee table, to be made effective January 1st, 1928. Because of lack of space, the announcement was omitted from these columns' last week.

The table is given below:—
For each day visit, in cases of ordinary attendance $4.00
For each visit, after 5 P. M. and before 9 P. M. $5.00
For a visit in consultation $10.00
For a visit after 5 P. M. and before 9 A. M. $5.00 to $10.00
For an office call, or advice by letter, or telephone $3.00
For attendance during labor $50.00
For major operations, $100.00 to $500.00
For minor operations, $10.00 to $100.00
Prenatal care and visits after confinement of operation shall be charged for as in cases of ordinary attendance.
Additional fees may be charged for laboratory tests, X-ray examinations and other special diagnostic procedures, or when extra time is spent in travel or detention.
Such deductions may be made as charity may require and such additions as the peculiar circumstances of a case may justify.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

In spite of the mean weather, the first hike of the Scout Leaders' Training Course last Saturday and Sunday was a big success. The party met early Saturday afternoon and proceeded to Camp Oak. Scoutmaster O. V. Hersey of Troop 3, Belmont, was master of ceremonies (also chief) and kept things moving all the time. The principal features of the hike were talks on "Programs" and "Discipline" by Mr. Hersey and "Winter Camping in Safety and Comfort" by former Scout Commissioner A. D. Taylor, who, although he does not live in Arlington now, never misses a Training Course hike. Scoutmaster Burt of Troop 5 also gave a most interesting and instructive demonstration of "Map-Making." All this was the serious work of the hike; the fun, of which there was much (ask Asst. Scoutmaster Nicoll of Troop 11 or Committeeman MacAllister of 5) could not be narrated in less than a newspaper page. Those present besides the speakers were Committeemen MacAllister, Ogren and Peterson of 5, Asst. Scoutmaster Nicoll of 11, Scoutmaster Davis of the Lexington troop and his Assistant Ballard, Scoutmaster Jones of 2, and Junior Assistant Buchanan, and Scout Executive Richardson.

Troop 8, the Commissioner's Troop, Scoutmaster Walcott R. Runnels, had a treat last Wednesday evening, when Mr. Cyrus Ballin, the sculptor, talked to the scouts on sculpture. He told a number of most interesting stories of his life as a student in Paris, showed his hearers how valuable an acquisition is a love for beauty and how to cultivate it. When he told the boys that beauty was everywhere, only one knew how to recognize it and then proved his assertions by samples the boys showed their interest and appreciation by the most rapt attention.

At the Belmont Court of Honor last week, Edward Sang of 8 was awarded the Pathfinding Merit Badge and Theodore Lannefel of 8, the Swimming Merit Badge.

Troop Five Notes

Troop Five, Boy Scouts, met Friday night. A tenderfoot badge was awarded Scout Hamlin. A certificate for the "Electricity Merit Badge" was awarded to Copeland MacAllister.

During the business meeting a pair of boxing gloves was presented to the troop by the troop committee. During the game period there were several spectacular bouts.

The committeemen present at the meeting were: Messrs. MacAllister, Huerth and Bowser. The troop cabin at Camp Oak is almost completed. It will contain twelve bunks and has also a very fine fireplace. There will be a radio set installed in the cabin. Troop 5 is the only troop that has taken advantage of the privilege of having a separate troop cabin.

MR. AND MRS. WYMAN PASS FIFTY-FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wyman, who have been residents of Arlington for many years, quietly observed on Sunday in their home at 135 Lake street, East Arlington, the fifty-fourth anniversary of their marriage. There was no special marking of the occasion because of the recent death of Mr. Wyman's brother, Daniel Wyman, with whom he had been associated for years in the market garden business, but many friends called; sent flowers and telephoned.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman were married in Mrs. Wyman's home in Waltham, on Jan. 8, 1874, by the late Rev. Amos Harris, at that time pastor of the First Baptist Church in Arlington. They have since lived on the Wyman farm in the east part of the town.

Mr. Wyman was born in Arlington seventy-nine years ago and as soon as he left school went into market gardening with his father. Later, he and his late brother took over the business from their father.

Mrs. Wyman, who was Adelaide Wilson, before her marriage, was born in New York City, seventy-four years ago, but spent most of her life before her marriage in Waltham.

IN 1903

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

A business card received from Lindsay K. Foster, Esq., of Arlington, reminds us that our young townsmen is a full fledged lawyer, with office at 55 Kilby street, Boston.

Mrs. G. H. Brown and Master Ronald left Wednesday evening for Montreal and St. John, N. B., to enjoy a vacation that will cover a few weeks.

The Clover Lend-a-Hand Club had one of its charming socials, or "at homes," on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Charles A. Dennett, Mrs. William H. N. Francis, Miss Alice W. Homer and Mrs. Harrison Bourne, the latter of Cambridge, were the hostesses. The inviting home of Dr. Dennett on the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Jason street, was the meeting place and the afternoon hours sped pleasantly at a harlequin of games, followed by the serving of an inviting collation.

There has been extra fine coasting on Westminster avenue this week. Some of the double runners starting opposite the residence of Mr. Cooper go almost to Forest street. It is the best it has been for years.

The second in the series of dances given under the management of Miss Grace Dwyer, is taking place in Crescent Hall this evening. It is patronized by Mrs. George R. Dwyer and Mrs. Allan Mott-Ring.

IN 1878

Fifty Years Ago This Week

The Narrow Gauge. In response to the call of the Selectmen there was a large attendance at Town Hall last Saturday evening, to decide for the Selectmen whether the proposed Mystic Valley R. R. should have the privilege of a location within the limits of the town of Arlington. Messrs. Durgin and Peck of the Selectmen having refused to approve the location desired by the managers of the road, Hon. John Schouler presided over the meeting, and spoke earnestly in favor of the road. H. Blanchard, Esq., of Boston, interested in the enterprise, explained the matter fully, and met the various objections raised. Messrs. Peck and Durgin explained their position and spoke against the location of the road within our limits, as did also Mr. John Osborn, but the meeting was evidently strongly in favor of the road, and the motion to instruct the Selectmen to sign the location was carried with only one dissenting vote.

Crystal Wedding—Last Friday evening, Jan. 4th, the Bailey and Peirce families celebrated the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bailey at their home on Appleton court. It was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, and although it was a very stormy night, there were about thirty members of the family present, who brought with them many handsome presents, appropriate to the occasion.

The Cold. The open weather we enjoyed during the month of December, and in a hardly more severe form continued during the first week of January, "shut with a snap," early this week, not soon to be forgotten; the thermometer ranging as low as fourteen degrees below zero, in this immediate vicinity, while at West Bedford it registered twenty-six degrees below.

W. W. Rawson killed a hog on Thursday, which dressed 661 pounds. This, we believe, is the biggest yet. Who comes next?

—Mrs. Joseph Lee and little daughter, Maud Almy, are guests of Mrs. Lee's parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Percy, at their Water street home.

SCHOOL NOTES

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Members of Miss Treat's 5th period class took charge of the Assembly on Friday, January 6th. The program consisted of slides and accompanying explanations on Yellowstone National Park. Those who took part were: Beatrice Gookin, Henri David, Edward Crockett, Ruth Cannell, Paul Widder and Pauline Burke.

The hockey ring behind the school was partially flooded last week by the Fire department, but the weather has been too warm for it to freeze satisfactorily.

Arlington is proud of Margaret Mullen, an A. H. S. girl who has been playing the leading role in E. E. Clive's production, "The Ghost Train," which has been on a return engagement at the Copley theatre.

Signe Pihl, a former high school student, has been elected to the Writer's Club at B. U.

The Lowder boys played real basketball in the Gloucester game on Friday night. Lefty needs just that rivalry to spur him on to his best.

Miss Grace Jeradi has come to A. H. S. to take Miss Austin's place. Miss Jeradi is a former A. H. S. student, who graduated from B. U. and comes to us from Attleboro.

The Worcester Polytechnic Institute has renewed Arlington's certificate privileges for three years.

Arlington Sunday at Keene

On January 8th, the Arlington Hockey team, some of the players formerly with the M. S. Ass'n Hockey team, went to Keene, N. H., to play the Keene Hockey team. They battled to a scoreless tie on the Ashuelot river. Soft ice prevented a fast game. The work of Capt. Farrell, visiting goalie, prevented several scores in the third period.

ARLINGTON BOYS CLUB

The Arlington Boys Club won its second straight game by defeating the Sacred Hearts of Cambridge, 18-17, at the Thorndike school gym last Tuesday evening.

Goodwin was the outstanding player of the game and also the high scorer, making 13 points. The Boys Club's passing was too much for the Sacred Heart team.

McGUIRK ELECTED CAPTAIN B. C. FOOTBALL TEAM

Warren McGuirk, who has played as varsity tackle in every Boston College football game for the past three seasons, was elected captain of the 1928 Boston College eleven at a meeting of lettermen at University Heights last Friday afternoon. McGuirk lives at 80 Oxford street, and prepared for Boston College at Dorchester High and St. Anselm's Prep, where he was a star athlete.

McGuirk's record of playing every game is unique. Even despite injuries, he has started as varsity tackle in every game and in point of service, he is more experienced than any of the other junior candidates for the captaincy. For the past three seasons, he was an outstanding lineman whose work was marked by consistent fineness rather than by any spasmodic flashes.

In the Boston College-Holy Cross game of 1927, he recovered a blocked kick for a Boston College victory, 6 to 0. He was bothered by injuries last season, but was recognized as one of the best Eastern linemen. He is a 6-footer and weighs 185 pounds.

—Elizabeth McDonald, aged 14 years, of 15 Wyman street, was hit by an automobile operated by Lawrence D. Wetmore, of 122 Franklin avenue, Wollaston, on Monday afternoon, as she was crossing Broadway, near the Soldiers' monument. Fortunately, no injuries resulted.

ARLINGTON HOCKEY TEAM WINS OPENING GAME

The local hockey season opened for Arlington High on Thursday night, in the Melrose rink, when the Arlington team, captained by Capt. Lane, defeated the Melrose team, 7 to 3, in a game. This win means much to the local boys, for it eliminates one of the teams that has been looked upon as a possible stumbling block for the Arlington boys in their try for the Greater Boston Interscholastic League series. The game had been scheduled for Arlington, but lack of ice made it necessary to play the game elsewhere. From the start the Arlington boys were masters of the situation, and in the opening period tallied two goals. This was all they got, but it was enough, for Melrose scored but one and this came in the last few minutes of the game. Arlington played a great defensive game.

Leveroni and Forbes worked together in fine style, and to each is credited a goal. About six minutes after the game started Leveroni shot for a goal and missed, but on a rebound Forbes was on the job and drove the puck into the Melrose net. Three minutes later Forbes returned the compliment, passing the puck to Leveroni, who drove it in for the second tally.

Neither team scored in the second period. Arlington played a fine de-

A. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATS GLOUCESTER-HIGH

Playing the best game of basketball seen in the local High School gymnasium for some time, the High School quintet defeated the fast Gloucester High team on last Friday evening by a score of 27 to 14, before one of the largest crowds that ever taxed the gymnasium. The boys from Cape Ann are well seasoned veterans like our own boys, and both teams met last season, winning a game each. The Arlington boys were slow in getting started, so that the visitors tallied the first point of the game, the first period ending with the score 7 to 3 in favor of Gloucester. In the next period the play was hard and fast, and Arlington succeeded in tying up the score, so that the half ended seven to seven.

Both teams drove hard for a victory, and there was plenty of team work on both sides. The Gloucester boys showed some wonderful team plays that at the opening of the game baffled the Arlington boys, and it was not until Arlington began to solve these plays that they got going in any kind of form.

Three times in the third period the score was tied and excitement ran high, but Arlington then began to pull away and the period ended with Arlington 21 and Gloucester 13. The last period was the fastest of the game. Nothing seemed to be able to stop Arlington and they continued building the score up until when the final whistle was blown, Arlington had tallied 27 and Gloucester 14.

There was no individual playing in this game, which was umpired by LeCain.

Between the halves the second team played a team from the sophomore class, when the former won, 27 to 11.

A. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM TOO MUCH FOR LOWELL

In a basketball game that bordered on rough playing many times, Arlington High won from Lowell High in the High school gymnasium Tuesday afternoon, by a score of 39 to 19. The style of play of the Lowell boys lost many plays for the team, but in fairness to the visitors, it must be acknowledged that there was some roughness on the part of the local boys.

The Lowell team tallied three points before Arlington got going. The first period ended Arlington 11, Lowell 4; second period, Arlington 21, Lowell 9; third period, Arlington 30, Lowell 13; fourth period, Arlington 39, Lowell 14.

There were times when the referee missed plays because of a general mix-up of players on the floor or in a crowded corner. Team work was displayed to great advantage on the part of the Arlington team, however. Lowell lacked this, which worked to its disadvantage. The way Arlington boys brought the ball down the court in team play and then suddenly shoot for a basket brought the crowd to its feet many times.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS OUT FOR BASKETBALL

The Arlington High School girls' basketball team faces a busy season, with half a dozen or more games. Miss Marion Hager, a forward, is captain of the team, and besides her there are these five veteran letter players: Miss Henrietta Cartullo, side center; Miss Winifred Williams, jumping-center, and Miss Ruth Cannell, Miss Beatrice Nimes and Miss Dorothy Hilliard, guards. Miss Katherine McCarthy, girls' physical director, is coaching the team, and Miss Marjorie Turner is manager.

Nearly 400 candidates have been practicing in the High School gymnasium and in the old Town Hall for the varsity and class teams. The schedule follows:

Jan. 13, Cambridge Latin senior, junior and sophomore class games at Cambridge; 20, Wellesley senior, junior and sophomore class games at Arlington; 27, Winchester at Arlington; Feb. 3, Swampscott High and second teams at Arlington; 8, Melrose at Melrose; 15, Watertown at Arlington; 29, open; March 7, Wellesley at Wellesley.

BOWLING NOTES

Arlington Post, American Legion

Last Friday evening the Arlington Post, American Legion bowling team met the East Boston Post team on the Regent Alleys, when the visitors took all four points. Joseph Meaney of the Arlington team was the high three string roller, with 306, beating out Trainor of the visiting team by one pin. Trainor, however, carried off the single string honors with 119.

Knights of Columbus

Two new records were made last Thursday evening in the Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus Bowling League series. John Sexton of the St. Patrick's setting a new high single record, with 148, and the Bruins rolled a new single string record of 529. Sexton also rolled the high three string total of the evening with 343. The St. Patrick's went into undisputed position at the top of the league by taking three points from the Macks, while the Auctioneers, tied for first place for the past two weeks, broke even with the Lakeviews, and went into second place.

The matches resulted as follows: Spares won three from the Brokers; Elcos and Bruins split even; St. Patrick's won three from the Macks; Old Timers won three from the Wacos; Fusilliers won three from the Zevis; Auctioneers and Lakeviews split; Associates won three from the Fillers, and the Pelkys won four from the Heaphys.

Community Club

The second half of the league will start this (Friday) evening, with the teams shifted and strengthened where they appeared to be weak.

Union Church League

This league got going again this week, after a two week's vacation. It will meet every Monday evening from now until March.

M. S. A.—Newton League

Nothing seems to be able to stop the M. S. A. rollers in this league. High records made by the M. S. A. bowlers in the early part of the season are still holding good.

Union Church League

After a vacation of two weeks, the Union Church bowling league reopened Monday evening with matches rolled on the Arlington Alleys. The A. F. G. Brotherhood team of the Heights Baptist church, in winning four points from the Orthodox Congregational church team, got a still stronger hold on first place in the league. The Church of Our Saviour team (Episcopal) won three points from Calvary Methodist church; Davis Best of the Heights Baptist church won three from the Park Avenue Congregational church, and the Heights Methodist church team won all four points from the First Universalist church team. Fardie of the Church of Our Saviour team was the high three string man with 307, and Gott of Davis' Best, was the high single string roller with 127.

A fire in a rubbish barrel in the house of Carl S. Herpenden, 64 Windsor street, early Monday evening, gave the family a fright, but did no damage. An alarm was sent in from box 141.

Again

-the Greatest Sensation of America's Greatest Industry

for Economical Transportation

Again, Chevrolet has created an automobile so far beyond all expectations in the low-price field that it constitutes the greatest achievement of America's greatest industry.

Built on a 4-inch longer wheelbase—offering numerous improvements in performance, beauty and safety—the Bigger and Better Chevrolet marks a spectacular epoch in the development of luxurious transportation at low cost.

The engine is of improved valve-in-head design with alloy "invar strut" pistons . . . hydro-laminated camshaft gears . . . mushroom type valve tappets . . . AC oil filter . . . AC air cleaner and a new crankcase breathing system.

Throughout the entire car similar advancements are represented—from the four-inch longer wheelbase and the new semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—84% of the wheelbase, to the marvelously beautiful new Fisher bodies in new Duco colors.

Come in and drive this great new car. Drive it through traffic—and get the thrill of its darting pick-up . . . the smooth, certain action of its non-locking four-wheel brakes! Drive it on the open road—and test every point in the speed range for smoothness and roadability! Try it on the hills—and learn the true meaning of Chevrolet power!

Do that—and you will agree with thousands of others that here is the world's most luxurious low-priced automobile.

A New Departure

At a recent meeting of the Anti-Saloon League of America at Washington, the office of General Superintendent was hotly contested for by Ernest H. Carrington. This important office has been held for a considerable period by Rev. F. Scott McBride, D. D., and he was re-elected by the narrow margin of four ballots.

This situation brought into view a bunch of possibilities not pleasant for the League managers to contemplate. For Mr. Carrington represented an element that has for some time past sought to effect a change in the League's policy so rigidly followed under the leadership of the late Wayne B. Wheeler (concentrating on legislators and executives) and disappointment at failure to secure Mr. Carrington's election was keen.

The Executive Committee of the League met this situation by creating a new department of education and propaganda, of equal importance and responsibility with that of General Superintendent, and appointing Mr. Carrington to be head of this new movement. This action was followed with plans for raising ten million dollars for use by this department in the coming five years. Mr. Carrington truly said "Prohibition must have behind it a convinced public opinion" and he and his subordinates will concentrate efforts to the accomplishment of that end.

In our opinion this is the longest and best step forward taken in recent years. It is a revival of the policy so effective in many states of the Union prior to the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment, when "Local Option" (the putting up to the voters in every town and city the question, "Shall licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors be granted?") became the method of dealing with the liquor question.

There are those among our readers who will easily recall the "campaign" of education that went on here in Arlington for a series of years, resulting each year in an increase in the "No" vote; that as a result there came to the voting age a generation and more who had never seen a saloon in Arlington. It was this campaign of education that laid the foundation on which a thing so strong as a constitutional amendment has been built; it is by its revival in the new department of the Anti-Saloon League that the ultimate goal aimed at will be reached.

It seems almost strange that the material advantages gained by the elimination of the licensed saloon and bar-room have had so slight effect, that in this case, history is simply repeating itself, again illustrating the familiar saying, "none so blind as those who will not see."

But large in value as is this material gain, there is another item for the credit side of the prohibition, the value of which it is impossible to measure. The heads of police departments all over this state, and others as well, will confirm the statement that in scores of homes within their jurisdiction where formerly "misery sat a perpetual guest," today comfort, contentment and peace, health and happiness, rule the hour, because the wages of fathers in these homes are no longer squandered in drink.

Robert Babson of nation-wide fame as a gatherer and grouper of statistics, is our authority for stating that prohibition is saving the country six billion five hundred dollars annually to be set aside as permanent investment or to be spent for the useful and the upbuilding, and we feel quite sure that those in charge of our local savings institutions will affirm how reasonable this estimate is by the growth in deposits among smaller investors here. But this and kindred facts seem to have no weight or influence with certain groups of people in public life, and in stations of broad influence. Here, therefore, lies the demand for a campaign of education, broadened by a group of the well-to-do and cultivated people, whose utterances in regard to restriction are broadened by that powerful and unscrupulous combination—the liquor interest.

FORUM SPEAKER SUNDAY
AN AMAZING YOUNG MAN

The last in the series of Forums for this season comes Sunday, January 15th, when Lewis Browne will speak in Robbins Memorial Town Hall at 3.30. He is probably the most amazing in his experiences and scholarship of any of the younger group of scholars and writers in the country today. He is one of those scholars who determined to go out into the world of life and activity and find things out for himself—to "work with the crowd" and learn by experience.

He was a young English rabbi when he came to this country, and fell in with Rabbi Stephen Wise, who opened the young man's eyes to the actualities of life and to some of the grave problems which confront civilization today. He became an assistant to Rabbi Wise, but in a short time he determined to go out into the world of work and get into contact with the actualities of life and the struggles of humanity to make a living.

So he dropped preaching and the ministry and went to work on farms, in steel mills and other places, and found out things he could never find out in books. And he thought much over the problem of life of mankind, of civilization, and of the part religion had played from the beginning in shaping this civilization.

The result of this thought and study was that tremendously popular book—"This Believing World," which is also the title of his lecture next Sunday. He has no equals as a lecturer.

The concert will be under the direction of Grace Gordon Pierce.

"THE RUNAWAYS" TO BE STAGED IN ARLINGTON

The Middlesex Sportman's Association has completed arrangements for the presentation of "The Runaways," at Robbins Memorial Town Hall, on January 30 and 31.

The production will be staged by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philbrick of Framingham. The cast will include 150 local singers, dancers and comedians.

LARGE CLASS OF CANDIDATES
INITIATED INTO ELKS

Somerville Lodge of Elks paid an official visit to Arlington Lodge last Wednesday evening in G. A. R. Hall. There were also present many visitors from other lodges of Greater Boston. District Deputy G. E. R. Thomas J. Brady of Brockline, honored the meeting by his presence, and he witnessed the explanation of the ritual by the officers of Somerville Lodge.

A large class of candidates was initiated. The work was done by E. R. Perry F. Nangle, E. L. K. Walter Smith, E. L. L. Haverbeck S. Ray, L. K. Eugene W. Driscoll, Chaplain Philip Sherman, secretary John S. McGowan and Esquire William S. Doherty. Short speeches followed by D. D. G. A. R. Thomas J. Brady, Perry F. Nangle, Angus MacDonald, Joseph E. Dowd and H. Wesley Curtis, past D. D. G. E. R. E. R. Richard L. Powers of the local lodge presided.

A musical show is to be given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall on some evening in the near future. Tuesday evening, Jan. 24, will be Elks' night at the Regent Theatre on Medford street, when the local lodge with ladies will attend in a body. It was also voted to hold an outdoor fete during the week of June 2.

The evening closed with a high class vaudeville entertainment, made up of vocal numbers by John McKee, tenor, selections by the "Elks" trio, Bobby, Helen and Ben; musical numbers by Charles Ochs, and a sketch by Fontaine and Tony.

SOCIAL UNION HEARS OF
RUSSIA'S RELIGIOUS DESTINY

Members of the Woman's Missionary and Social Union of the First Baptist church held a most interesting meeting Monday afternoon. Mr. Timothy W. Peshkoff, a former priest of the Russian Orthodox church, spoke on "Russia's Religious Destiny." He described at length the Greek Orthodox church and sang some of their chants. He said that religion in Russia had gained more followers since the bar was put on it by the Bolsheviks, as it takes persecution to give life to a religion. Mr. Peshkoff, who is a college graduate, is now preparing for the Protestant ministry and is doing a great work among the Russian people of Boston.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold L. Frost, assisted by Miss Evelyn Frost. During the social hour the members seized the opportunity to talk informally. Mr. Peshkoff and to learn more of life in Russia today.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH FOLD
ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

The annual parish meeting of St. John's Episcopal church, as held in the parish house last Monday evening. The Rector's report and the reports of the various societies showed the parish to be in a healthy condition.

The following officers were elected:—Senior Warden, Charles H. Hoxie; Junior Warden, William D. Elwell; Clerk, Ralph M. Simonds; Treasurer, Arthur O. Yeames; Vestrymen to serve three years, Alban Fowler, Robert O. Laskey, Harry L. Cowles; Vestryman to serve two years, an unexpired term, Edgar W. Rowell; Delegates to the Diocesan Convention, Arthur O. Yeames, Harold B. Richmond, Frank A. Woodhead; Delegates to the Archdiocese of Lowell, Charles R. Beattie, Charles H. Hoxie, Frederick A. Cheney.

Arlington Woman's Club

COMING TO ARLINGTON:

—For One Day Only—

THE "UNITED STATES SENATE"

The legislative committee of the Arlington Woman's Club is planning a unique and unusual program for the next meeting, Thursday, January 19, at 2.30 p. m. It promises to be a most enjoyable afternoon.

Club members are to act as United States Senators, with Mary Livermore Barrows of Melrose as president of the Senate.

The idea of portraying a session of the Senate was original with Mrs. Barrows, who wrote and produced it, when she was legislative chairman of the Melrose Woman's Club. The afternoon was so interesting that it was recommended to other clubs at the annual meeting of the State Federation.

The Arlington Woman's Club is fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Barrows, who knows how to make a legislative meeting alive and interesting, amusing, yet instructive.

It is planned to have the session conducted as nearly as possible like that in Washington. Besides the forty-five senators, who are interested enough in the bills to be discussed, to be present, there will be a clerk, a sergeant-at-arms, a messenger of the "House of Representatives," several pages, and the ever-present reporters.

Bills, ranging from the emending of the Volstead Act, to increasing the size of the Botanical garden, or building a new Boston Post-office, will be introduced, and tabled. Others, which have been discussed previously at sufficient length, may be brought to a vote, thus giving a chance to see portrayed all kinds of senate procedure.

The committee in charge consists of Mrs. F. P. Hawkes, chairman; Mrs. Lenox Bozeman, Miss Priscilla Russell, Mrs. Charles C. Warren and Mrs. Matrons Sorenson.

Scholarship Fund

The Scholarship Committee of the Club, whose chairman is Miss Ethel Wellington, have allotted the months of January and February for the work of raising the $850 needed to complete the scholarship fund of $5,000. The plan advocated by the Ways and Means Committee, in whose hands the raising of this money was placed at the beginning of the year, is the "Vanishing entertainment," which has proved successful in so many places.

From each of the twenty groups of the club, five members will be selected, and each of these five will invite three people at large to an entertainment, for which one dollar will be charged. Each of the three guests will in turn invite two people and the last six will each ask one. The entertainments may be varied according to the ideas of the hostess. Some suggestions are a luncheon bridge, an auto ride to some objective point, musicals, or a thimble party. One gifted member of the club has been asked to take a group to the Art Museum. This plan, if carried out, would not only mean the raising of the money, but would start a round of activities that would bring different people together in a social way for a mutual benefit.

Since the Belmont Woman's Club was able to raise $2,450 with two activities, it seems that the Arlington Club should certainly be able to raise the $850 necessary to complete the fund.

Deaths

MRS. MARION FOSTER

Funeral services for Mrs. Marion Foster, of 41 Crescent Hill avenue, who died suddenly Tuesday morning as the result of an accident, were held yesterday afternoon, in Grace Episcopal church, Cambridge, by the Rev. Mr. Beate, rector of the church, officiating. Interment was in the Cambridge cemetery.

Mrs. Foster had made her home on Crescent Hill avenue for the past nine years, moving there from Cambridge. She was highly respected and admired in the community. She is survived by her husband, Walter Foster, and by two daughters, Eleanor and Isabel.

ROBERT WATSON

Robert Watson, who for the past 27 years has resided in the east part of our town where he was well known, collapsed on Friday afternoon of last week, while placing a letter in a mail box at the corner of Pleasant street and Western avenue, Cambridge. He was taken to the Municipal Hospital in that city, where he was pronounced dead upon his arrival.

Mr. Watson was born in Ontario, Canada, 62 years ago, but the greater part of his life has been spent in Cambridge, where for years he has been an agent for the Cambridge Laundry. He was a member of Mt. Sinai Lodge and at one time a director of the Mt. Sinai Building Association. He also belonged to North Cambridge Encampment and the Cambridge True Blues. On coming to Arlington, Mr. Watson became one of the active workers in the Trinity Baptist church and has always retailed his interest in the church. Three weeks ago he, with his family, moved to a new home on Middleby road, Lexington.

Funeral services were held last Sunday at 2 o'clock at Trinity Baptist church, with Rev. James E. Norcross, minister, officiating. The musical program was under the direction of Mrs. Florence Jones. Mr. George E. Hovey of Somerville was the soloist. St. Sinai Lodge conducted the ritual service for the dead at the close of the church service, and the Lodge had charge of the committal service at the grave in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

He leaves a wife, two sons, Thomas and William Watson; and four daughters, Mrs. William T. Hudson, of West Medford; Mrs. John Wilson, of Arlington; Mrs. Charles Brown and Miss Bernice Wallace.

Weddings

MAGENNIS—RILEY

The wedding of Miss Celia V. Riley, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Riley, of 18 Norcross street, and Mr. Frank C. Magennis of Medford, took place in St. Agnes rectory last Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. J. Flaherty. The bride, who wore a travelling gown and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, was attended by Miss Cecilia V. Cunningham. Her brother, Mr. Edward Riley, acted as best man. Mr. Magennis is a contractor and a prominent member of the Medford Knights of Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Magennis left immediately for Miami Beach, where they expect to spend the next four months.

BOYS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS WITH "PYRAMUS AND THISBE"

The "Pyramus and Thisbe" scene from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," presented by the boys of Mr. John Crosby's class, amused the members of the Young People's Department of the First Baptist church at their New Year's social Monday evening. Foster Lorenzen took the part of the Jester; Fred Ennis, Thisbe; Westcott Atwood, Pyramus; John Freeman, Lion; Vernon Franklin, Wall, and Laurence Whitman, Moon. The play was coached by Mr. Crosby.

A five-piece orchestra, furnished by Charles Miller, furnished entertainment, both before and after the play. Miss Marion Trask arranged the party, with Miss Ethel Crosby assisting her with the refreshments.

ARLINGTON CIRCLE HEARS
TALK ON RECREATION

The Arlington Circle of the Florence Crittenton League held a most delightful meeting Wednesday at the Pleasant street home of Mrs. William D. Elwell. The pleasure of the afternoon was much increased by the reading by Mrs. William G. Brooks of a scene from "Disraeli," followed by a poem.

Mrs. Eva Whiting White, director of the School of Social Service at Simmons College, was the speaker of the afternoon, and her topic was "Recreation." Mrs. Whiting expressed the opinion that the chief difference between the young people of today and those of past generations lay in the former's disregard of conventions, and in the fact that they make no secret of those actions which their critics call "shocking." Many children, she said, wanted to get away from their homes because they were so terribly bored. If interesting and lively conversation was to be enjoyed at home they would be much more apt to stay there. She also made a plea for an increase in chaperonage.

At the close of the talk tea was served, from a table decorated with pink roses, by Mrs. J. H. Berry, chairman of the social committee, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Snow, Mrs. Charles A. Hardy, the president, presided at the meeting.

The Non-Sibs of Trinity Baptist church held their business and social meeting on Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Edna Prain, of Lexington, who was the hostess, assisted by Miss Ida Dunlop.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

—Etta M. Stevens of 91 Westminster avenue has registered at the New England Sanitarium at Melrose, for a course of treatments.

—There will be a Roll Call supper at the Baptist church on Thursday, January 19th, at 6.30. This is called the "Goodfellowship" supper, and is for all the members of the church.

—The Woman's Society of the Heights Baptist church held its regular meeting in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. Most of the afternoon was spent in talking over plans for the Roll Call Supper.

—Tuesday, January 17th, the last Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will convene. Dr. Filler will be present. This meeting will be open to all who desire to attend. Thursday, January 19th, is the first meeting of the Church Family night of the church. This will open with a supper at 6 o'clock and a real program is planned for the evening. All families of the church are cordially invited to attend.

—The subject of Rev. Edward A. Morris' sermon on Sunday morning, who is to occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church, will be "The Aristocracy of Service." Service at 10.45.

—Mrs. J. Herbert Mead held the first lesson in Parliamentary law on Wednesday morning, January 11, at her home on Appleton street. It is an open class and includes many members of the organized groups in the Heights section.

—The regular meeting of the Arlington Heights Study Club was held on Tuesday afternoon at Henshaw Hall. The two papers of the afternoon were given by Mrs. W. W. Churchill, who took for her subject, "Bacon and Inductive Philosophy," and Mrs. Cyrus Dallin, who read "Pastor—Scientist." Both papers were exceptionally fine and well received by the club. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. J. H. Kernan and Mrs. Clifford R. Dumble. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served and the usual social hour enjoyed.

—Next Wednesday evening, January 19, the Dorcas Group of the Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. Church will give a two-act comedy skit, "The Strike of the Ladies' Aid," at the Locke School Hall on Park avenue, at 8 o'clock.

—The Woman's Missionary Guild of Park Avenue Congregational church, will meet in the church parlors next Tuesday, Jan. 17, at 2.30 p. m. Mrs. George Webster will tell of her extended trip. There will be music and refreshments, served by Mrs. Herman Cathcart, chairman of the Hospitality Committee.

—Mrs. Louis King entertained the Kenney Bible Class at her home on Lorne road Wednesday evening. During the business meeting, the report of the committee in charge of sending flowers to the shut-ins at Christmas was heard. A social hour, during which refreshments were served, concluded the meeting.

SELECTMEN WILL SOON DECIDE PLEASANT ST. BUS QUESTION

Cedar Hill, the bus line would prove a great convenience. However, except for those who live at the Centre, it would be no cheaper than the trip through Harvard square, for although it is understood that the bus fare would be only five cents, the carfare to the terminal is six cents, which makes the total cost one cent more than the present fare.

Everyone agrees that the advantages and disadvantages of the proposed line should be carefully weighed—and this is just what the Selectmen are doing. The time, too, for any expression of opinion is before the final decision has been made.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—Mrs. Cousens will entertain the R. D. Lend-a-Hand next Monday afternoon at the Jason street home of her mother, Mrs. R. D. Greene.

—Several members of Menotomy Guild went to Melrose Sunday evening to attend the meeting of Guilds in this section, held there.

—This evening has been set for the Winter Carnival of the Y. P. C. U. It will be held in the Universalist parish house.

—The Friendly Folk will have their regular monthly supper next Tuesday evening at half past six in the parlors of the Orthodox Congregational church.

—It will cost something like $75, to replace a fireplace, ripped out of one of the new houses being built on Alton street, on Tuesday. It was evidently the work of boys bent on mischief.

—Mr. A. L. Merrill of 207 Pleasant street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Turner, at Chaffin, West Virginia, and her two grandchildren, one, a new granddaughter, Mary, now about a month old.

—The Woman's Alliance of Boston and vicinity is to be entertained at the First Universalist church on Friday, January 20th. The speaker secured is Haffan Halet, a Turk, who will speak on Modern Turkey. Dr. Halet has been connected with Robert College at Constantinople.

—Mr. Warren Seavey of Cambridge has purchased of Mr. A. M. Walcott, the house at 187 Pleasant street, where the Walcott family are now living. Mr. Seavey, who is connected with the Harvard Law School, will occupy the house as it is.

—The Clare Class held its regular meeting Monday evening in the parlors of the First Baptist church. Mrs. Marcus Sorenson was in charge of the refreshments, which were served during the social hour. Next month's meeting will be the annual guest night and reception to new officers.

—The Dennison's classes have commenced at Blake's Card and Gift Shoppe, and will be conducted by Miss Westlake each Tuesday and Thursday forenoon and afternoon. Instructions free. There is now being displayed at the Shoppe a wonderful line of Valentines. 13jan1w

—St. John's Episcopal Church. Rev. Charles Taber Hall, Rector, 2nd Sunday after the Epiphany. 8 a. m. Holy Communion. 9.30 a. m. Church School in the Parish House 10.45 a. m. Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon: "Manifestations of Christ."

—The Arlington Kiwanis Club held its regular meeting yesterday, at the Middlesex Sportsman's Clubhouse. The committee chairman read their reports for 1927. The story of the installation of officers for 1928, which took place at the meeting on January 5th, will be found on another page.

—The Rev. James Yeames passed the eighty-fifth anniversary of his birth on January seventh. Mr. Yeames entered the ministry in 1863. He became rector of St. John's parish at Advent, 1897, retiring at the end of 1910, and has lived thirty years in this town.

—Muriel Moody entertained the J. A. O. Club at her home Tuesday evening, January 3rd. A short business meeting was held. This was followed by bridge. Miss Alice Holmes won first prize and Mrs. Charles Frederick won the second. Refreshments were served.

—Bishop Slattery visited St. John's church on Sunday afternoon, and confirmed a class of fourteen. The service was an impressive one and was made even more beautiful by the Christmas decorations which had not been taken down. There was a large congregation in attendance.

—Mrs. Ralph Kinney, district deputy president of the Rebekahs, with her suite, will go to Woburn next Tuesday, to attend a banquet to be given by Hope Lodge, at which the president of the Rebekahs Assembly will be a guest. The Noble and Vice-Grand of Ida F. Butler Lodge have also been invited to attend this affair.

—Mrs. Roger Homer and Miss Eleanor Homer gave a bridge party last Saturday evening at the Gray street home of Mrs. H. H. Homer. There were fourteen tables and everyone spent an enjoyable evening. The proceeds were given to the Social Alliance to help defray the expenses of recent refurbishing of the church parlor.

—Miss Janette Carswell entertained the Pleasant Street Group of the First Baptist church Wednesday afternoon, at her home on Russell street. In the evening the Lakeview Group were the guests of Mrs. Franklin Wyman of 135 Lake street, and on Thursday afternoon the Mystic-side Group met with Mrs. W. R. Bars at 40 Oxford street.

—A meeting of the O. T. Club was held on Thursday, January 5th, at the home of Mrs. Russell Grant, 49 Josephine avenue, Somerville. Plans were made to have a Valentine party on February 15th, at the home of Miss Leota Walker, president of the club. March 12th has been chosen as the date for the annual banquet, and committees were named to take care of the details.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fernald of 34 Gould road, have returned from a week's trip to New York City, where they were registered at the Hotel Plaza. Their daughters, the Misses Florice, Margaret and Allison, spent Saturday and Sunday with their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fernald, at Bridgewater, Mass. Mr. L. H. Fernald is manager of the Bridgewater branch of the Brockton Public Market.

—The Arlington Tigers, L. Chamberlain, manager, encountered the U. S. Veterans' Hospital team at West Roxbury on Wednesday evening, the score being 29 to 18 in favor of the Tigers. Basketball enthusiasts were treated to a good, close game, for at the end of the first half the score was 12 to 5 in favor of the Veterans' team.

—Mrs. Cyrus E. Dallin is among the list of patronesses for the concert debut of Dorothy Speare, to take place in Symphony Hall, January 18. Miss Speare is known to Arlington people as a graduate of Smith College in the class in which Mrs. Katherine Sawyer Gerrish was a member. Her book, "Dancers in the Dark," brought out a few years ago, created a good deal of talk. She made her recent debut in opera in Washington.

—Miss Adeline Berry was presented with a surprise gift at a get-together party of Sunday school classmates at the home of their teacher, Mrs. C. A. Chick on Windemere avenue. Mrs. Chick entertained with a pleasant social evening, the group of girls, many of whom have been in the class for the past eight years, and although a number are out of town, they revive friendliness of the class spirit, and keep in touch with their teacher. Miss Berry entered the nurses' training course at the New England Baptist Hospital on Wednesday, January 11.

—The Board of Directors of the Board of Trade met in the club house of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association Monday evening, to make arrangements for the February meeting. At that meeting a straw ballot will be taken as to whether the organization will continue to meet in the M. S. A. hall or to return to G. A. R. hall. President Charles M. Evans has a good speaker in line. At this meeting the Mercantile Bureau committee will report pertaining to the matter of reorganization.

—Mrs. Ernest Southwick has been confined to her home on Marathon street by a severe cold this week.

REDECORATE PARLOR OF OLD FIRST PARISH CHURCH

The meeting of the Social Alliance connected with the First Congregational Parish (Unitarian) church, held Monday afternoon of this week, was fraught with a great deal of interest; for at that time the ladies' parlor, which has been redecorated and refurnished, was opened for inspection.

Previous to this, however, there was a formal meeting, when the program of the afternoon was a talk, illustrated with lantern slides, by Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge of Dedham. His subject was "Star Island," in which the Unitarian denomination is interested in developing. Mr. Rutledge has a keen sense of humor, and in a happy way told the history of the work being done by the denomination on the island, which is the mecca for gatherings of a religious nature during the summer months. He painted a pleasant word picture for its future.

Vocal solos were sung by Miss O'Rourke, a young singer of Dedham, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edwin L. Allen.

An innovation to these meetings have been made by the president, Mrs. William F. Homer, in having a different member lead the devotional exercises. On Monday, Mrs. James A. Bailey conducted this part of the meeting.

The members and guests enjoyed the social hour that followed, when tea was served from one of the handsome new tables, with Mrs. A. J. Wellington and Mrs. John R. Foster pouring at either end.

The parlor has been converted into a most attractive place in which to hold social gatherings of the church. It has been refurnished through the financial efforts of the members of the Alliance and by individual gifts. The color scheme adopted has been the dull bronze and orange; the latter carried out in the cretonnes on the window seats. The fine old sofa has been reupholstered in a brown velvet. There are two beautiful new tables, the gift of Mrs. A. J. Wellington and Mrs. Helen Damon Smith, in memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Samuel G. Damon, a devoted member of the Alliance. One table will be for the serving of refreshments and the other to be used for the presiding officer at meetings. Mrs. O. W. Whittemore has presented the Alliance with two chairs, that will be used at the serving table, while Mr. and Mrs. John R. Foster have contributed a beautiful mirror that has been placed over the mantel and fireplace. Mrs. James A. Bailey's gift has been two large domestic floor rugs, that blend with the sun fast overdraperies, that are in the old gold color.

The Alliance has purchased several dozen chairs in the Windsor pattern, some of which are to be given in memory of former members by friends or relatives. A small brass plate will note the name of the person in whose memory the chair is given.

COMMUNITY CLUB ELECTS NEW LIST OF OFFICERS

At the annual business meeting of the Community Club of Arlington, held in G. A. R. hall, the following list of officers were elected to serve the coming year:—President, William Dear Storey; vice-president, Harold L. Whitcomb; treasurer, Herbert Gillman, Jr.; secretary, Stuart N. Hotelling. The appointive officers will be made later by the president.

It was Harry Clark's night, and a supper was first served at 6.45. After the business had been disposed of, an entertainment program was put on by a group of out-of-town people who gave a vaudeville show.

MR. AND MRS. BUCKLEY CELEBRATE 25th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Buckley of 57 School street were given a reception at their home on Saturday evening, Jan. 7th, in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. It was a surprise to the couple, arranged by their children, and was attended by twenty-five guests.

The house was decorated with flowers. There was a large wedding cake and many gifts.

Mr. Buckley is the son of the late Julia and Daniel Buckley of Cambridge. Mrs. Buckley is the daughter of Joseph and the late Jane Bushell of Malden.

Their wedding took place in the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Malden. Rev. Fr. Nagel performed the ceremony.

They have eight children, Agnes V., Anna B., Daniel J., Helen J., Marie, Edward J., Doris G. and Ralph W. Buckley.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—Mr. James R. Taber suffered a severe heart attack on Tuesday of last week, and is seriously ill at his home on Lombard terrace.

—Mrs. Richard Locke of Howell road, had a robe stolen from her automobile while standing near Court street.

—Our genial friend, Napoleon J. Hardy, is now able to get out for a while each pleasant day. Monday and Tuesday he walked out on mother earth.

—Prof. Peter Schwamb attended the fiftieth reunion of his class, Technology, '78, on Jan. 5th. Eight members met at the home of the widow of a class-mate, Mr. Charles —Rev. John Nicol Mark will lecture on Sunday evening, Jan. 22, in the Unitarian church on Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter." This lecture is illustrated from slides taken from the moving picture production of the story.

—The annual program for the children of the parish was presented in St. Agnes' church parish school hall Sunday afternoon. A portable and group numbers was presented. At the end of the program each child was presented with a bag of candy.

—Miss Embom, secretary at the Universalist Headquarters on Newbury street, was the speaker at the meeting of the Missionary Society, which was held in the Universalist parish house Monday afternoon. She told of missions in the south and in Japan, where she had worked. Miss Embom, whose talk was most inspiring, will speak at the all day meeting of the society on the ninth of February. Mrs. Fred Tuttle, presided at the meeting.

—Last Wednesday evening, January 11th, the Esperanto Literary Club of Arlington, held its banquet at 11 Farmer street, the home of Mrs. Shibley D. Malouf, who has long been associated with the Esperanto movement. Several Esperanto experts participated in the evening's entertainment. The club is planning an interesting program for the year.

REPERTORY THEATRE

Some years ago, when Mr. Jewett's company acted Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," it met with pronounced success. More recently the same dramatist's play, "The Wild Duck," was so cordially received that it played for three weeks to crowded houses at The Repertory Theatre. Realizing the interest in Ibsen's plays, the management has decided to revive "Hedda Gabler" for a single week, beginning next Monday evening. Hedda Gabler is a character that tests the capabilities of any actress, and as the central figure of the play bearing her name for its title, she has become one of the most-talked-about personages in the modern drama. Hedda will be acted at The Repertory by Katharine Warren, with Arthur Sircom as George Tesman, William Faversham as Edvard Loeberg, Dennis Cleugh as Brack, Olga Birkbeck as Mrs. Elvsted, Cecelia Radcliffe as the Aunt, and Adelaide George as Bertha.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

If a man falls off a cliff and breaks his neck—that's a funeral.

If a man falls off a cliff and breaks the cliff—that's a "rag" in a movie.

"Wife Savers" Paramount's latest Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton comedy, and a fitting successor to "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now," and "Now We're in the Air," shows why hair-breath escapes are funny. An exceptionally capable cast supports the two comedy kings; among the players are Ford Sterling, Zasu Pitts, Tom Kennedy, Sally Blane, Angus Tollan and George Harvey. The picture was directed by Ralph Cedar. The chief stage attraction, featuring Gene Rodemich and his famous band, will be John Murray Anderson's "Blue Plate," said to be one of Anderson's most exotic productions. "Rose of Killarney" has been named as the novelty reel. In addition to this there will be other short subjects including a Paramount News Reel, a cartoon comedy and other screen subjects.

Now Ready - a New ESSEX SUPER SIX

New Bodies—Larger and Roomier—
New Appearance from Radiator to Tail Light—
Finer Fittings—Four Wheel Brakes—
High Compression—Long Life Motor &
An Amazing Price

THE SEDAN, 4-Doors, in two shades of blue, with cream striping, is larger and roomier, with form fitting seats, wider doors, rich upholstery and appointments

$795

THE COUPE has wide seat, ample luggage space in the rear deck, and a comfortable leather rumble seat which is removable

$775

THE COACH is longer, wider, roomier—a full size five-passenger Super-Six, as distinctive in appearance as it is practical

$735

f. o. b. Detroit, plus near excise tax

One look at the new Essex Super-Six will convince you that it will excel in popularity the Essex which has just completed the most successful year ever achieved by a six-cylinder car. From radiator to tail light it is a smarter, more beautiful car than even the Essex which preceded it. And in performance it surpasses in smoothness, reliability, speed and ease of handling, the standard Essex owners are so proud to acclaim.

You get an impression of completeness and fine quality in the design of every detail. From the new pattern Colonial lights—the higher, narrower radiator with vertical shutters—the heavy sweeping fenders—the rubber-covered running boards—the new improved steering mechanism and the steering wheel similar in design and construction to that now used on the very latest and very highest priced cars—there is outstanding reason for pride.

With all these advantages, there is also an amazing price reduction. The Sedan at $795 f. o. b. Detroit is $40 below the Sedan price of last year.

ST. AGNES CHURCH NOTES

Last Friday evening the devotion of the Holy Hour was held, a special musical program being sung by members of the choir, under the direction of William F. Kelley.

Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the women of the parish.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOR

The annual meeting of the Church of Our Saviour was held in the vestry last Friday evening. The reports of the various officers showed that the church has had a particularly successful year, with an increasing membership and a particularly flourishing Sunday school in which both children and adults take great interest. It was decided to take action toward providing the church with new pews and with a new organ to be used until a pipe organ can be put in.

The following vestry members were chosen: Mr. Herbert Kellogg, Mr. Benjamin Leighton, Mr. Carl Hunt, Mr. Percy Morin, Mr. J. F. Kelly, Mr. Franklin Hawkes, Mr. John H. Wallwork, Mr. Arthur Hayson and Mr. Vance Crosby, with Mr. Percy Farmer and Mr. Joseph Taylor as alternates. From these Mr. Leighton was elected senior warden, Mr. Wallwork, junior warden, Mr. Kelly, treasurer, and Mr. H. H. clerk. Mrs. Farmer was elected delegate to the archdiocese, and Mr. Wallwork and Mr. Morin, alternates.

The meeting was preceded by a parish supper, served by the members of the Woman's Guild, with Mrs. Arthur Hewson, chairman, and Mrs. W. J. Dodds, assistant chairman, and by a short Epiphany service. In his talk, the pastor, Rev. Warren N. Bixby, outlined the work done by the church during the year, speaking especially of the increasing attendance at the early Sunday morning service.

Deaths

MRS. MARY J. MEDLEY

Mrs. Mary J. (Lawless) Medley, for many years a resident of Cambridge, died suddenly, on Saturday at the home of her son, Richard D. Medley, 15 Church Hill avenue, death being due to a heart attack. She was the widow of Edward D. Medley, who died 37 years ago, and is survived only by her son. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning at her home. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Agnes church by Rev. Donald J. Simpson, and the service was attended by many friends and neighbors. The musical sections of the mass were sung by members of the church choir. Burial was in Calvary cemetery, Woburn.

ST. AGNES COURT, C. D. OF A.
HOLD INSTALLATION

St. Agnes Court, C. D. of A., held their regular meeting and annual installation of officers on Monday evening, in G. A. R. Hall, at which were present a large number of members and visiting guests, also the Court's chaplain, Rev. M. J. Flaherty.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the meeting, at which the various committees made their reports for the past year. Mrs. Mary H. Rogers read a lengthy report for the Charity committee, which showed that the Court had done considerable work along that line. The Visiting committee report, read by Mrs. Catherine A. McCarthy, showed that this committee had done much to cheer the members of the Court who had been ill during the past year. The report of the Entertainment committee, which has furnished the Court with some fine entertainment the past year at a surprisingly low cost, was read by the chairman, Mrs. Nellie A. Crowley.

Rev. M. J. Flaherty congratulated the Court on the fine reports read, and wished them success for the coming year.

The committee gave the date of the coming show, which is to be given by the Court, as April 9, Easter Monday night.

Following the meeting the following elected officers were installed by District Deputy Miss Mary Cross and her assistant, Mrs. Weeks, Monitor, of Malden:

Mrs. Ethel Clancy, grand regent; Miss Agnes Fleming, vice-grand regent; Miss Katherine Merrigan, historian; Miss Grace Donahue, phonedress; Miss Josephine Dacey, financial secretary; Mrs. Anna D. Callahan, treasurer; Mrs. Josephine Frazer, lecturer; Mrs. Agnes Higgins, monitor; Miss Helen Kellerman, sentinel; Miss Margaret Dineen, organist; Mrs. Ellen A. Morrissey, and Mrs. Mary Smith, trustees for three years.

Following the installation, Miss Cross and Mrs. Weeks were presented with tokens in appreciation of their services. Grand Regent Clancy was presented with a beautiful chair in recognition of her services for the past year. She is entering upon her second term in that office this year. The presentation speeches were made by Mrs. Mary Ward and Mrs. Catherine A. McCarthy.

Miss Gertrude Leahy and Miss Mabel E. Spillane were appointed on the Publicity committee.

The evening closed with the serving of refreshments from prettily decorated tables in the banquet hall.

The subject taught at the school was Rifle Marksmanship.

Saturday evening, January 14, Commander Bates, president of the Association, has made arrangements for Company D Associates to visit places of military interest in Providence, R. I. The Association will spend the week-end there. A good time is expected. This trip is being sponsored by money in the treasury of the Association.

Company D Rifle team is well on its way. It won its first meet in its home Armory, Cambridge, by defeating Reading Rifle Club, of Reading, Mass.

The firemen were called out twice on last Friday. The first call came from box 481, where a mattress was on fire in the home of Eric Johnson on Brand street, off Forest street. The cause is unknown. The mattress was thrown out the window before any damage was done to the house. The other call was from box 13, for a grass fire in Somerville. The latter department took care of the call.

church, the Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley, pastor of the church, officiating, Paul R. Bennett was the soloist for the service. The church was filled with friends. A large delegation of firemen from the Central Fire Station, in charge of Capt. Albert Jones and Lieut. Lorne McEwen, and headed by Chief Daniel B. Tierney, marched from the station to the home and then to the church as honorary escort. The active bearers were comrades from the department—Daniel B. Coughlin, John F. Shaw, James P. O'Brien, Ernest H. Griffin, Harold C. O'Leary and John E. Barry.

A wealth of flowers was banked about the casket, around the pulpit and along the choir loft. The deceased was dressed in the uniform he loved, and in which he had served the town faithfully and well. Members of the Arlington Lodge of Elks and Medford Lodge attended. Town officials, as well as the head of the Police Department, were also present.

The wife of Mr. Harwood, Harriett Harmon, passed away nearly eleven years ago. He is survived by two sons, Herbert and Donald, also his parents, besides three sisters, Mrs. Ethel M. Flagg, Mrs. Grace L. Belyea and Mrs. Florence Brown, all of this town, and four brothers, Chester C., of New York; Charles A., of Northampton; Frank M., and Harold K., of this town.

The flag at the Central Station park was flown at half mast, and the station has been draped in black and will remain so for thirty days out of respect for a faithful comrade.

The body was taken to Mt. Pleasant cemetery for interment, in the family lot. It was escorted there by a squad from the Fire Department, as well as active bearers and a delegation from the Police Department.

held up an Elevated bus in Hyde Park Monday night. A good deal of credit is due to the capture of these two young men to the cleverness of Patrolman William Burns of this town. Patrolman Burns had seen the two young men at the center of the town, and when Patrolman Curran and the rest of the party appeared, Burns inquired as to what was up. On being informed, Burns pointed to the automobile in which Rider and Langill were sitting. Their capture followed.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY W. WELLS OBSERVE 50th ANNIVERSARY

ent a grandnephew of Mr. and Mrs. Wells, Rev. and Mrs. Richard A. Norton, of Somerville, long time friends of the couple. During the evening they sang a favorite hymn of Mrs. Wells, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Allen Morris, minister of the Orthodox Congregational church, in which Mrs. Wells has always been active. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served from a prettily appointed table, and each guest departed they were given a dainty white box in which were wedding cakes made by the hostess.

The couple were married by the late Daniel Cady, then minister of the Orthodox Congregational church. They first lived in Belmont, where Mr. Wells was in business. Their next home was in Cambridgeport, a few years after they moved to North Cambridge. On the death of Mrs. Wells' father in 1890, the family moved to Arlington in the old homestead, in which the couple were married, and in which Mrs. Wells was born. Seven children were born to the couple. Only two are living, the daughter referred to as Mrs. Roland B. Wells, a World War Veteran.

Mrs. Wells was born Ella A. March 5, 1849, the daughter of William H. and Caroline E. Smith Richardson. For years, Mr. Richardson was the leading blacksmith in that part of the town, where the family resided. She was graduated from Cotting High School in 1874. Her church affiliations, like those of Mr. Wells, have been the Orthodox Congregational, in which Mrs. Wells' parents were also active during their life. Mrs. Wells is a member of the Bradshaw Missionary Association, connected with the church, and for years was a teacher in the church school. She, like her mother, has been an earnest worker in the W. C. T. Union, and has served as president, treasurer and secretary. She is also a member of the Arlington Historical Society.

Mr. Wells, who is the son of Samuel and Almira Pierce Wells, was born in Winchester, November 12th, 1851. He has always been in the mercantile business, of late years in the Boston Market district.

MEMBERS OF ROTARY CLUB STAGE MOCK TRIAL AT THE WEDNESDAY MEETING

It was all in fun, and many a hearty laugh was enjoyed, both by the defendant and complainant. This happened at the meeting of the Rotary Club, in Middlesex Sportsman's Association Hall, Wednesday noon, when the "trial" of William (Bill) Cann, a well known business man of this town, was trumped up.

It was charged that he had embued too freely of ice water in a well known spa in the center of the town. The complaint was made by William V. Taintor.

President Frank A. Woodhead, as clerk of the court, opened the session, and appointed Walter L. Peirce as the judge. John A. Bishop represented the defendant, and Chester A. Moody represented the prosecution. Dr. B. L. Lawley was appointed erler of the court, and Charles H. Stevens was the court stenographer. (We hope he can read his notes).

The jury was made up of Walter K. Hutchinson, Warren A. Peirce, George Vail, M. Ernest Moore, Charles F. McManus, W. G. Tenney, Myrl F. Erickson, Laurence P. Bliss, David Buttrick, Clarence A. Moore, George H. Rice, William G. Hadley. Mr. Hutchinson was the foreman.

The prosecution presented Arthur J. Norwood, William V. Taintor and Joseph W. Williams. Their testimony looked damaging for a time, but under cross examination by the defense attorney, Mr. Bishop, it vanished into space, so that they did not have a leg to stand on. The defense presented as witnesses, Charles H. Higgins as a character witness, and Dr. Winslow Kingman as an expert on liquids and brain matter. Daniel B. Tierney, in full uniform of a police officer (an old-time helmet) before the days of the snappy cap, was the marshal from Hancock County, Maine. His testimony proved beyond a doubt that Mr. Cann could not have been guilty of any of the charges brought against him. Harry Hopkins, dressed in G. A. R. uniform, brought a special message from Gov. Brewster, stating that it would be unwise for the jury to put any stock in the testimony of one William V. Taintor. There were many exhibits brought into the proceedings during the trial. One juror thought so little of his associates that he requested the judge to hold his money until after the session of court was over.

Well, there were laughs upon laughs, but testimony so bored the jury that at one time they left the court room in a body and the court erler had some difficulty persuading them to come back into the court room in order to go on with the trial.

When the trial ended, the jury, without leaving their seats, announced a tie vote. In consequence, the judge pronounced the defendant not guilty, and Bill Taintor, the complainant, was ordered to furnish said Cann with free gasoline for the next year.

As the club members sat down to dinner, the side door opened, and in walked N. J. Hardy. He was given a great reception, and later was called on for a short talk. Mr. Hardy was also in a happy mood, and had with him a large bottle, filled with stones, which he claimed, were the product of his recent operation, but later he confessed that a pile of stones on the side of the road had given him material for a good operation story.

The meeting next week will be one at which the ladies will be present (a Hotary-Anh affair) when Rev. John N. Mark will give a talk on "Robert Burns."

ANNUAL MEETING OF MENOTOMY TRUST COMPANY

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Menotomy Trust Company was held in the banking rooms on Tuesday, January 10, 1928, at 4 p. m. At this meeting there were seventeen hundred eighty-three (1783) shares represented, which was a very large proportion of the total number of shares. The President, James A. Bailey, gave a brief report of the condition of the bank and spoke of the prospects of its future success and place in the community.

The following officers and directors were elected to serve for the year 1928:

President, James A. Bailey.
Vice-Presidents, Henry C. Guernsey, and Warren A. Peirce.
Clerk, John A. Bishop.

Directors, Charles W. Allen, Edward H. Bailey, James A. Bailey, John A. Bishop, Eben F. Dewing, Thomas J. Donnelly, Harold L. Frost, Martin J. Gallagher, Henry C. Guernsey, Frederick W. Hill, Joseph C. Holmes, James O. Holt, Thomas D. Kennedy, Michael F. Lane, Edwin R. Marshall, M. Ernest Moore, Warren A. Peirce, George O. Russell, Frank H. Walker, Frank A. Woodhead, Franklin Wyman.

Auditing Committee, Peter Schwamb, Clarence A. Moore, Wentworth C. Carr.

Mr. James E. Kimball retired as vice-president and director, and Mr. Henry Hornblower retired as director at this meeting. They have served in this capacity since the organization of the Menotomy Trust Company, but because of the pressure of their many other activities, they find it impossible to give the time for service on this Board.

The president expressed his sincere appreciation of the services that these gentlemen have rendered, and expressed the regret of the entire Board that the bank was to lose their valuable assistance.

Mr. Henry C. Guernsey who has recently purchased a substantial interest in the bank, was elected vice-president and director, and Mr. Guernsey plans to take an active part in the affairs of the bank, and will become a resident of Arlington in a very short time.

Mr. Edward H. Bailey and Mr. Edwin R. Marshall were elected as directors to fill the vacancies caused by resignations. Mr. Bailey is the son of the president, is a graduate of Harvard University and is associated with Kidder Peabody & Company. Mr. Marshall is President of the Old Colony Corporation of Boston and because of his experience and banking connections will add much strength to the bank.

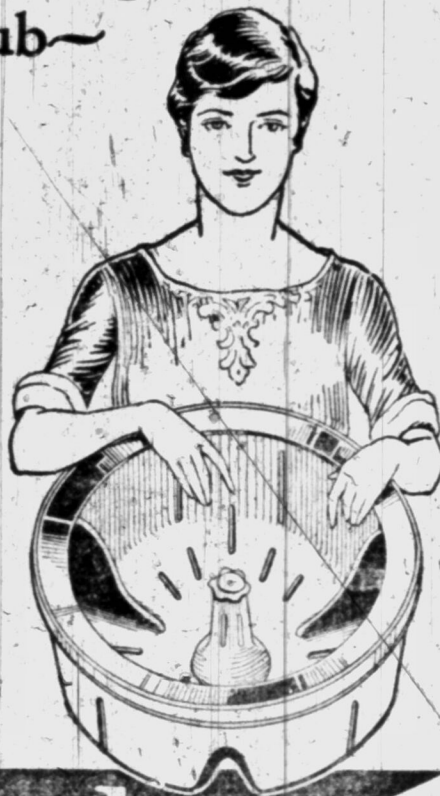

SOMERVILLE POST GOES INTO FIRST PLACE

In the Middlesex County American Legion bowling matches rolled last Wednesday evening on the Arlington Alleys, Somerville Post went into first place in a tie with Winchester Post, when the two teams split the points, two and two. Cambridge Post won three points from Belmont, and Arlington won three from Medford. Murray of the Somerville team was the high roller of the evening, with a single string of 121, and three string total of 319.

And Ladies' Night

A person with a hearing distance of the club house of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association on last Thursday evening would at once have recognized the fact that there was a merry party within the walls of the club house, for when members of the Kiwanis Club assemble there is sure to be an affair worth attending. The occasion was the annual installation of officers, combined with a Ladies' Night.

The Hardy Catering Company furnished the tempting banquet that opened the evening. The tables were set with candles and large bouquets and looked most attractive. The retiring president, John N. Loud, acted as toastmaster, and filled the position to the Queen's taste. "Joe" Law's orchestra furnished the music and Joe himself led the singing. He interspersed this with many original stunts as only "Joe" can do.

The special guest of the evening was the Kiwanian, Lieutenant Governor Irvin E. Dierdorf, recently elected, who paid his first official visit to the local club. Mr. Dierdorf was also the installing officer, and he discharged his duty in a way that called forth many words of commendation as to his ability for the high position he has been called to fill.

The officers inducted into office were: L. Brooks Saville, president; Charles E. Dockrill, vice-president; Ernest L. Parsons, treasurer; Ray E. Mauger, district trustee; Maurice L. Hatch, secretary; John N. Loud, past president; Dr. Carl E. Barstow, Dr. Harold E. Hodgdon, A. Allen Kimball, Warren A. Peirce, Jr., Albert J. Savage, Chester R. Whitman and Albert J. Wunderly, board of directors.

These officers need no introduction to the people of Arlington. All are connected with the business life of the town and are helping to build the town into a bigger and better place in which to live.

There were but brief speeches. The installing officer and the new President were called on. The latter announced his appointments for the coming year.

After the tables were cleared from the main hall floor, the party enjoyed an evening of dancing, with both old and new members on the program, with a few of the old fashioned "square" dances introduced.

The appointments made were as follows:

Committee on Music—Gideon T. Sawyer, chairman; Charles E. Dockrill, Albert J. Savage and Edward H. Hutchinson.

Good Will and Grievance Committee—Mervin Brown, chairman; William T. Canniff and A. Ralph Santoliquido.

Classification Committee—Norman M. Walkinshaw, chairman; Warren A. Peirce, Jr., Joseph F. Quinn.

Attendance Committee—Harold E. Hodgdon, chairman; Charles E. Flaherty and Hyman Kreem.

Publicity Committee—Ray E. Mauger, chairman; Alexander Warren and John N. Loud.

Public Affairs Committee—Chester R. Whitman, chairman; Richard L. Powers, and James R. Smith.

Program Committee—Walter T. Chamberlain, chairman; John N. Loud, and Paul L. Coombs.

Business Standards Committee—Warren Guild, chairman; Edward H. Hutchinson, and A. Allen Kimball.

Finance Committee—John O'Leary, chairman; Walter T. Chamberlain, Ernest L. Parsons and Albert W. Wunderly.

Membership Committee—Charles F. Flaherty, Harold E. Hodgdon and Gideon Sawyer.

Reception Committee—Don MacLeod, chairman; Eugene Hoffman and William H. Keefe.

Underprivileged Child Committee—Dr. Carl E. Barstow, chairman; Ray E. Mauger and Richard L. Powers.

Inter-club Relations Committee—Lester C. Fraser, chairman; James M. Keane and Maurice L. Hatch.

House Committee—Hyman Kreem, chairman; William E. Selfridge, and Norman M. Walkinshaw.

Education, laws and regulations Committee—William H. Keefe, Albert W. Wunderly and Rev. Edward A. Morris.

Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, will be Sons' and Daughters' Night of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Club. A reception to new members, who will be welcomed by the president, Mrs. Henry J. D. Small, and officers will also be a feature of the meeting.

Each new member will be presented a flower, to be worn during the evening as a distinguishing mark.

Mrs. William J. Skinner, chairman of the Reception committee, will be in charge of this part of the program, which will be followed by dancing. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Henry MacLean, acting chairman of hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Irving R. Tooker, Mrs. W. A. Lamb and Miss Mary K. Mellish.

The Choral Society of the Auxiliary has resumed its weekly meetings, which are held Thursdays, in the Parish House of the Dudley Street Baptist church.

The Middlesex Sportsman's Association will hold a Family Supper Tuesday, January 17, 1928, at 6.30 p. m., prepared by the ladies. Reservations for the same should be made tomorrow.

RUSSELL LODGE, A. F. & A. M., HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

The annual ladies' night of the Russell Lodge, A. F. & A. M., was held Saturday evening of last week in Masonic Temple, Academy street, and, as is always the case, drew a large number of members and guests.

An entertainment came first, held in the lodge room. Previous to the presenting of this, the Master of the Lodge, Mr. Albert H. Morris, welcomed the guests in a pleasantly worded speech. He then turned the entertainment over to Mr. Wallace M. Powers, chairman of this part of the evening, who introduced the talent. It was a trio of young women under the name of "The International Artists." They included Miss Nina Spaulding, violinist; Miss Edna Pollay, pianist and vocalist, and Miss Nan Lagerstedt, a monologist, impersonator and character sketch artist. Miss Spaulding appeared under most trying circumstances, as only the day previous her mother lost her life in an automobile accident. She played with a great deal of acceptance, however. All the artists were enjoyed, especially Miss Lagerstedt, who showed her versatility in her varied program.

Those who did not care for dancing participated in the upper hall, enjoyed cards in one of the lower rooms. Refreshments were served by the committee during the evening, the personnel of which was Albert H. Morris, Wallace M. Powers, Arthur C. Sampson, Charles E. Dockrill, Benjamin F. Hickey, Walter E. Lannefeldt and Joseph P. McCann.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH MEN'S CLASS HEAR REV. M. D. WOLFE

The Rev. M. D. Wolfe of Arlington was the speaker at the Men's Class of the First Baptist church last Sunday. His topic: "What Shall It Profit a Man if He Gain the Whole World and Lose His Soul," brought out many interesting questions from the members at the close of his address. Fifty-four men were present. Rev. Timken of Taunton was a visitor.

Announcement of the next social on the evening of January 23 was made. The pastor-elect, Rev. Grady Feagan, will be the speaker for the occasion.

Mr. Arthur J. Mansfield will address the class next Sunday, and Dr. Martin will speak the following Sunday. Both of these men were here earlier in the season and the class feels it is fortunate to be able to secure them for a second appearance. Men not connected with other classes are invited to attend. Class meets at 12 noon. Session closes at one p. m.

Questions Prove Interest Of Large Forum Audience

Interest in the answers to the large number of questions asked of Kirsopp Lake, professor of Biblical History at Harvard, and of Kirkley Mather, professor of Geology, kept the audience—one of the largest this year—at the Arlington Forum Sunday afternoon in their seats until nearly six o'clock. As the last question was answered they evinced their appreciation by loud applause. It seemed, too, that the two speakers were enjoying the discussion as much as was the audience.

Dr. Mather, whose subject was "Life as Seen by a Scientist," said that we call the constant urge to change progress. It is for the scientist to describe these changes and for the philosopher to say whether they are good or not. Life adapts itself. Changes come through responses to external stimulus. In consequence higher forms have emerged. In the process a few individuals have been selected and the fittest have survived. Whether man is the highest form we cannot tell—as we are, men we think he is.

What makes for change or determines fitness, we cannot tell. Dr. Mather said. That it is not brute force is shown by the fact that the age of reptiles, when huge, small brained, cold blooded animals roamed the earth, was succeeded by the age of mammals. In hand to hand contest with the dinosaur, the smaller, warm blooded mammals would stand no show but the mammal used its brain intelligently and had the co-operative spirit. The mammal differs from the dinosaur in that it cares for its young and travels in herds. Increase in co-operation can be traced in the strain that leads to man. In man we find it in the family, in tribes, in nations, until, today, we dream of a league that comprises the whole world.

Man's Splendid Outlook

Man—homo sapiens—has been on the world only about thirty thousand years, while the average mammal has been here about a half million years. It is reasonable to suppose that man will continue on the earth for hundreds of thousands of years. Human nature is not yet fixed, it is still plastic. That is the most optimistic thing that can be said about man for it means that his golden age is ahead—he has a splendid outlook toward the future.

The psychical in man is now emerging from the physiological just as long ago the conscious emerged from the unconscious. Man possesses knowledge of moral law to which he finds response in a rational universe, so there is hope for response in the spiritual universe. To the scientist man is the product of his environment—light rays have impinged on sensitive protoplasm and as a result the marvelous mechanism of the eye has been developed. Similarly from the constant impinging of sound rays has come the ear. As man possesses other attributes than the bodily—appreciation of beauty, a sense of values—these must be the response to something in his environment. The spiritual impinges on something in the upright quadruped and he develops a soul. So the scientist must ascribe to the universe something divine.

Dr. Mather then described the two schools of evolution—the mechanistic, whose followers believe that everything comes from one or a few kinds of particles by the working of immutable laws, and the emergent, which teaches that new things appear as evolution advances, that new laws are made and new properties acquired. Man is an emergent, said Dr. Mather. His ideas, ideals, purposes and beliefs have an important function. When man makes up his mind he changes the course of history. But if ideas govern the world, it is important that our ideas of life be correct. Man must inevitably go on. Evolution does not, however necessarily mean progress, it only means change. That it has meant progress in the past gives cause for hope, but it guarantees to man only opportunity.

The Hope of the World

It took millions of years for brute consciousness to evolve from the mineral and for the self conscious to evolve from the brute. In a comparatively brief interval this self consciousness is giving place to world consciousness. The time may come when we will act as though all men everywhere, whatever their color or race, are members of a single family. In this emerging ideal, Dr. Mather concluded, rests the hope of the world, the high water mark of the tide of consciousness.

Dr. Lake, speaking on "Life as Seen by a Theologian," expressed his agreement with everything that Dr. Mather had said. It becomes more and more plain, he went on, that the trouble is not between modern science and modern religion, but between modern science and ancient theology. We have reached the perception that we are living in a world governed by law and not by the regulations of a super-police officer. We know that when the same circumstance occurs for the same thing we get the same result. Hydrogen and oxygen combined in the proper proportions will always make water—the result is inevitable.

Our Differing Viewpoint

This is different from the point of view of our ancestors. They believed in a divine being who announced what was to happen and that some times one result, some times another might follow a given set of circumstances. In another way we differ from our grandfathers. They believed that they knew the main outlines of the universe—the nature of men, women and children, how they come into existence and what would become of them. Today we have no belief that we understand the general outlines of the picture. We think we know a few details and from them we hope to build up a better and saner view of life.

Scientists, dealing with the phenomena of material existence, using experiment and observation, have given us a knowledge of the way in which things happen so that we are able to choose what we will do at any given moment with sufficient knowledge to make the natural law work in our favor. So life is becoming more and more comfortable for more and more people. It does not seem, however, that life is any happier than it used to be. When you are comfortable you have time to turn around and see how unhappy you are.

Realists and Nominalists

So in the future men will study something to make them happier. They will study the world of values—what makes the difference between being beautiful and ugly, between being true and false. There are two classes of philosophers. Dr. Lake went on—the realists who believe that values have a real existence apart from things—that two and two would still make four if there were nothing left to be counted, and the nominalists, who believe that they are simply names given to certain qualities of things. However, both admit that truth and beauty are real as far as they are the qualities of things.

Happiness, Dr. Lake said, depends on our relation to the values of existence, just as comfort depends on our relation to the circumstances of existence. The next generation has to take up the problem of values just as we took up the problem of natural phenomena. We have made the world more comfortable because we know more about it. If our children are wise they will study values in the same way the scientists have studied circumstances. They will not take them on authority but will study them by experiment. They will find they are living in an orderly world. When they know the law of values they can place themselves so that the law will operate to their advantage.

The New Theology

In the past man believed that the world was governed by a living being who, poised behind the scenes, pulled the strings that made things work. If they were friendly to him they might get what they wanted, that was religion. What God wanted was what today we describe as values. More and more the will of God is identified as living according to spiritual values. Through the discoveries of science, electricity, instead of killing us by lightning, gives us light. So the religion of the future will teach how to take the values of life so that instead of being killed by the truth we will live by it.

God, Dr. Lake defined as, "the totality of values." He believed, he said, in a world of real values and wished to serve these values as his ancestors served God. He had no doubt he concluded, about the future of the kind of theology he had tried to outline. It would certainly be the theology of the boys and girls who are growing up, but he was doubtful if it would be the theology of the churches. He didn't know if religion would find its adequate expression in the churches today or elsewhere.

Questions

The questions covered a wide range. Dr. Mather explained that in the Martian environment people couldn't exist for five minutes and that life on Mars must assume forms suited to that environment. Scientists, he said, had no knowledge of how law came into being. Energy obviously is eternal reality and matter is an expression of energy.

Dr. Lake expressed his belief in prayer, not as petition, but as aspiration and purification. Life, he said, would become better and richer as we live more in appreciation of values. Love he defined, as breaking down of barriers which make individuals feel solitary and lonely creatures. He had little use, he said, for any religion that does not regard such a breaking down of barriers as its beginning.

Mr. Franklin P. Hawkes, principal of Junior High West, made an admirable chairman and introduced the speakers briefly and pleasingly. In the music that preceded the lectures, Miss Helen Barr sang soprano solos delightfully.

The ushers, members of the Community Club, included Mr. William Dean Storey, Mr. Cecil B. Cowdrey, Mr. Herbert J. Woodbine, Mr. George M. Hammond, Mr. Horace W. Clark, Mr. Harry E. Clark, Mr. John W. Huebner and Mr. William A. Cann.

BUILDING FOR FIRST WEEK OF YEAR TOTALS $69,400

The building permits issued last week, the first week of 1928, by Building Inspector Gratto, reached a total of $69,400. Included were six two-family and two one-family houses. In detail they were as follows:

Frances A. Cann, 40 Amsten street, sun parlor, $675; W. J. Sullivan, 6-8 Belton street, two-family, $8,000; E. H. Locke, 12 Belton street, two-family, $9,500; E. H. Locke, 15 Alton street, two-family, $9,500; Frank Robinson, 67 Ronald road, one-family, $6,000; Maur, 6 D. Sullivan, 2 Belton street, two-family, $9,000; Axel G. Strandman, 24 Mevonia street, piazza roof, $225; Bar-Hawkes, 23-25 Park Boulevard, two-family, $8,000; Harry Hawkes, 31-33 Park Boulevard, two-family, $8,000; Colbert Realty Co., Inc., 74 Kensington park, one-family, $10,000; John D. Mayhew, 150 Thorndike street, shed, $500; F. Baker, of Brookline.
